Good Shepherd Sunday

The fourth Sunday of Easter is often called Good Shepherd Sunday. The Gospel taken from the tenth chapter of John shows the image of Jesus as shepherd who tends his flock. In the pastoral setting of Israel, the symbol of the shepherd evokes guidance, comfort and protection.

Today's gospel uses an imagery which is closely related to shepherding. Jesus identifies himself as the gate or door of the sheep. Fr. Raymond Brown, the famous American Bible Scholar, gives two interpretations of the gate imagery. The first is Jesus is the gate whereby the shepherd approaches the sheep. Jesus is the sole legitimate means of access to God's flock. This guarantees safety and well-being of the sheep because the shepherds who pass by the gate are shepherds who have the heart of Jesus. On the other hand, those who seek entry to the fold apart from Jesus are thieves and robbers.

The second interpretation of the imagery is Jesus is the gate leading to salvation, a gate not for the shepherd, but for the sheep. The gate is not only for coming in but also for going out, and the sheep which go out through Jesus find pasture.

Good Shepherd Sunday is a fitting time to remember that the only one who provides a true model for those who rule and guide is Jesus Christ, he who did not come to be served but to serve and to give his life as ransom for many (Mk. 10:45).

The Church also invites us to keep this Sunday as "Vocation Sunday," that is, a day of prayer to ask God to send to us good and numerous shepherds from among our children, and also as a day of reflection, to see how we may help our children to become the good shepherds that Christ wants them to be, and to remain so till the end of their lives.

Jesus puts the Christian community under the care of the shepherds he himself has chosen; but our shepherds in turn become the responsibility of the Christian community, that is, our own responsibility. We must feel a deep responsibility towards our seminarians and priests; they are our concern. We must help them to enter priesthood through the door which is Christ.

Let us bear in mind that our priests will be what our Christian community is. If we strive to be the flock that Christ wants us to be, the Lord bless us with good shepherds. Let us all, shepherds and sheep faithfully follow Christ on our way to heaven, the sheepfold where we shall feel happy and secure for good. Amen!

SOCIAL MINISTRY

Anchoring Social Ministry: Prayer and Worship

The most important setting for the Church's social teaching is not in a food pantry or in a legislative committee room, but in prayer and worship, especially gathered around the altar for the Eucharist. It is in the liturgy that we find the fundamental direction, motivation, and strength for social ministry. Social ministry not genuinely rooted in prayer can easily burn itself out. On the other hand, worship that does not reflect the Lord's call to conversion, service, and justice can become pious ritual and empty of the gospel.

We support new efforts to integrate liturgy and justice, to make clear that we are one people united in faith, worship, and works of charity and justice. We need to be a Church that helps believers recognize Jesus in the breaking of the bread and those without bread. Eucharist, penance, confirmation, and the other sacraments have essential social dimensions that ought to be appropriately reflected in how we celebrate, preach, and pray. Those who plan and preside at our worship can help the parish community understand more clearly the spiritual and scriptural roots of our pursuit of justice without distorting or imposing on the liturgy.

Our social ministry must be anchored in prayer, where we uncover the depths of God's call to seek justice and pursue peace. In personal prayer, the reading of the Scriptures, and quiet reflection on the Christian vocation, we discover the social mission of every believer. In serving those in need, we serve the Lord. In seeking justice and peace, we witness to the reign of God in our midst. In prayer, we find the reasons, the strength, and the call to follow Jesus in the ways of charity, justice, and peace.

A STEWARDSHIP MOMENT BY THE INTERNATIONAL CATHOLIC STEWARDSHIP COUNCIL

Fourth Sunday of Easter Weekend of May 6/7, 2017

Saint Peter plays a prominent leadership role in the first two readings, urging his listeners to be baptized and accept the gift of the Holy Spirit; and encouraging them to follow in the footsteps of Christ. We have just renewed our baptismal promises at Easter and the Holy Spirit dwells in us in a special way.

Are we good stewards of those baptismal vows? Have we renewed our commitment to follow in Jesus' footsteps? Have we opened our hearts to discern the will of God in our lives? Take some time to reflect on the importance of our baptismal renewal and our lives as disciples of the Lord.
